

NAME: _____ Date: _____

I investigated: _____

Self Evaluation

Respond to the statements and questions below using complete sentences full of details and supporting facts.

What did I learn about my topic that I didn't know before?

What was my best research question? Why do I think it was the best?

Which was my worst question? What made it worse than the others?

Which question helped me find really interesting information? What was it about this questions that led to such interesting information? Why do I think the information was so interesting?

How did I know about what information to look for? What did I learn about how to find information that I can use again?

What source or type of source did I find useful that I've never used before? Why was great about it? How did I find it?

Did I work well with my partner?

Did I present my new knowledge well to the class? What would I do differently?

Do I like my final project? Why or Why not? What would I do differently?

What part of the journal/notebook was most useful and helped me stay on task?

What did I do very well this time? What aspect of the instruction helped you the most?

What could I do better next time? What would help me do better next time?

People (students or adults) that were most helpful were (include how they helped me):

The books I used were:	helpful	a little helpful	no help
The Internet was:	helpful	a little helpful	no help
My Teacher was:	helpful	a little helpful	no help
My Media Specialist was:	helpful	a little helpful	no help

""Student Inquiry in the Research Process""

Copyright 2002-3 Permission to Duplicate for Educational Use Only Created by Leslie B. Preddy

My partner was:	helpful	a little helpful	no help
Non-Traditional Resources were:	helpful	a little helpful	no help
Resources in my Community were:	helpful	a little helpful	no help
Community Resources I used were:

My research on my project was:	okay	better than usual	my best
My effort was:	okay	better than usual	my best
My writing was:	okay	better than usual	my best
My oral presentation was:	okay	better than usual	my best
My final product/project was:	okay	better than usual	my best
My bibliography was:	okay	better than usual	my best
My organization skills were:	okay	better than usual	my best

I liked doing my project: yes somewhat no

I showed creativity when:

My work was better than last time because:

If I had more time, I would I would still like to learn the following about my topic:

After reviewing my source notes, what 3 sources were most helpful?

What 2 sources could I not have done without? Where and how did I find those sources?